divalent metal transporter 1, and ferritin mRNAs and proteins in non-small cell lung carcinoma. Recent findings have demonstrated that high-level expression of transferrin receptor and divalent metal transporter 1 (DMT1) are associated with high-grade non-small cell lung cancer (NSCLC) and may be useful in identifying NSCLC as a premalignant lesion. However, the role of ferritin has not been fully elucidated in lung cancer. Here we performed semiquantitative RT-PCR and Western blotting to examine the expression of these mRNAs and proteins in 43 cases of NSCLC and 26 cases of normal lung tissues. The transferrin receptor mRNA expression was significantly increased in squamous cell carcinoma (SCC) compared to that in adenocarcinoma and large cell carcinoma
