NOTE: SA version is standalone so Acrobat NOT required In recent days, documents have been published for the convenience of users who want to preserve documents. In the case of, for example, publication of a newspaper by fax or as a PDF document, it is not required to print the entire page. Furthermore, as a solution to this problem, it is possible to do so by using a program such as Adobe Acrobat. Although when you want to use the power of a PC, it's necessary to have Acrobat. However, in the case of EPC (Extended PDF Card) (ISO/IEC 7810-3), files can be created without using Acrobat such as with the Type 3 Tag model, the HTML model, etc. PDF Link software converts your documents to EPC and PDF to achieve this. Because EPC is the standard model for file publishing and is internationalized, the PDF Link software can receive data from other languages. PDF Link SA is a freeware application and it does not require a registration key.
