What's New in the?

1. Field of the Invention The present invention relates to a group III nitride compound semiconductor light emitting device.

2. Background Art Group III nitride compound semiconductors, such as gallium nitride (GaN), have a wide range of applications, for example, light emitting diodes (LEDs) and laser diodes (LDs). More specifically, group III nitride compound semiconductors are applicable as light emitting devices which emit short-wavelength light in the ultraviolet range and to blue and green light emitting devices which emit light in the blue and green wavelength range, respectively. FIG. 11 shows an example of an n-type nitride compound semiconductor light emitting device. Referring to FIG. 11, the n-type nitride compound semiconductor light emitting device includes a substrate 1, an n-type nitride compound semiconductor layer 2, an active layer 3, a p-type nitride compound semiconductor layer 4, and a p-type nitride compound semiconductor layer 5. The n-type nitride compound semiconductor layer 2, the active layer 3, the p-type nitride compound semiconductor layer 4 and the p-type nitride compound semiconductor layer 5 are stacked. A p-side electrode 6 and an n-side electrode 7 are respectively formed on the p-type nitride compound semiconductor layer 4 and the p-type nitride compound semiconductor layer 5. An active region 8 is in a region from the active layer 3 to the p-side electrode 6. The active layer 3 is in an active region 9 which is in a region from the active layer 3 to the p-side electrode 6. An n-side electrode 7 is formed on a substrate 1 on the n-type nitride compound semiconductor layer 2 side. More specifically, a back surface electrode 11 is formed on the substrate 1 which is opposite the n-type nitride compound semiconductor layer 2 side. The back surface electrode 11 is electrically connected to the n-side electrode 7 via an ohmic electrode 12. In the n-type nitride compound semiconductor light emitting device, electric current which flows from the n-side electrode 7 to the p-side electrode 6 flows from the back surface electrode 11 to the ohmic electrode 12. As shown in FIG. 12, the ohmic electrode 12 may be formed of nickel (Ni) and has a stacked structure including nickel (Ni), titanium (Ti) and gold
